

‘The Mosquito’ draws from Kunsan flag football

Anyone knows that the perfect “bird’s eye view” is the ideal way to take in all of the action. With that in mind, and given that mosquitos easily outnumber birds 10 to 1 here, we’ll say this commentary is from the “mosquito’s” perspective. And as most of you itchy readers already know, where there’s good football, the mosquito will be there!

Tuesday’s late game slating TRANS [2-2] against CPTF [1-3] started as an interesting juggle for control of the field and left the scoreboard blank at the half. Needless to say that CPTF, a hodge podge made up of MSS and staff agencies mixed with a few other misfits, was largely the underdog, but humbled TRANS with a decent defense and a few surprising (and entertaining) sacks made by their smallest player. Maybe TRANS was comatose for the first half, but when they finally started making plays, including a back door pass that turned into a 60-yard break-away to the end zone, they sent CPTF to the dog house after chalking up 20 fast points. CPTF’s noble attempt to make the loss respectable earned them 12 points on the scoreboard, but when there’s holes in the offensive line wide enough for an AAFES taxi to mow down the quarterback, it’s no wonder CPTF was limited to scramble for mercy points.

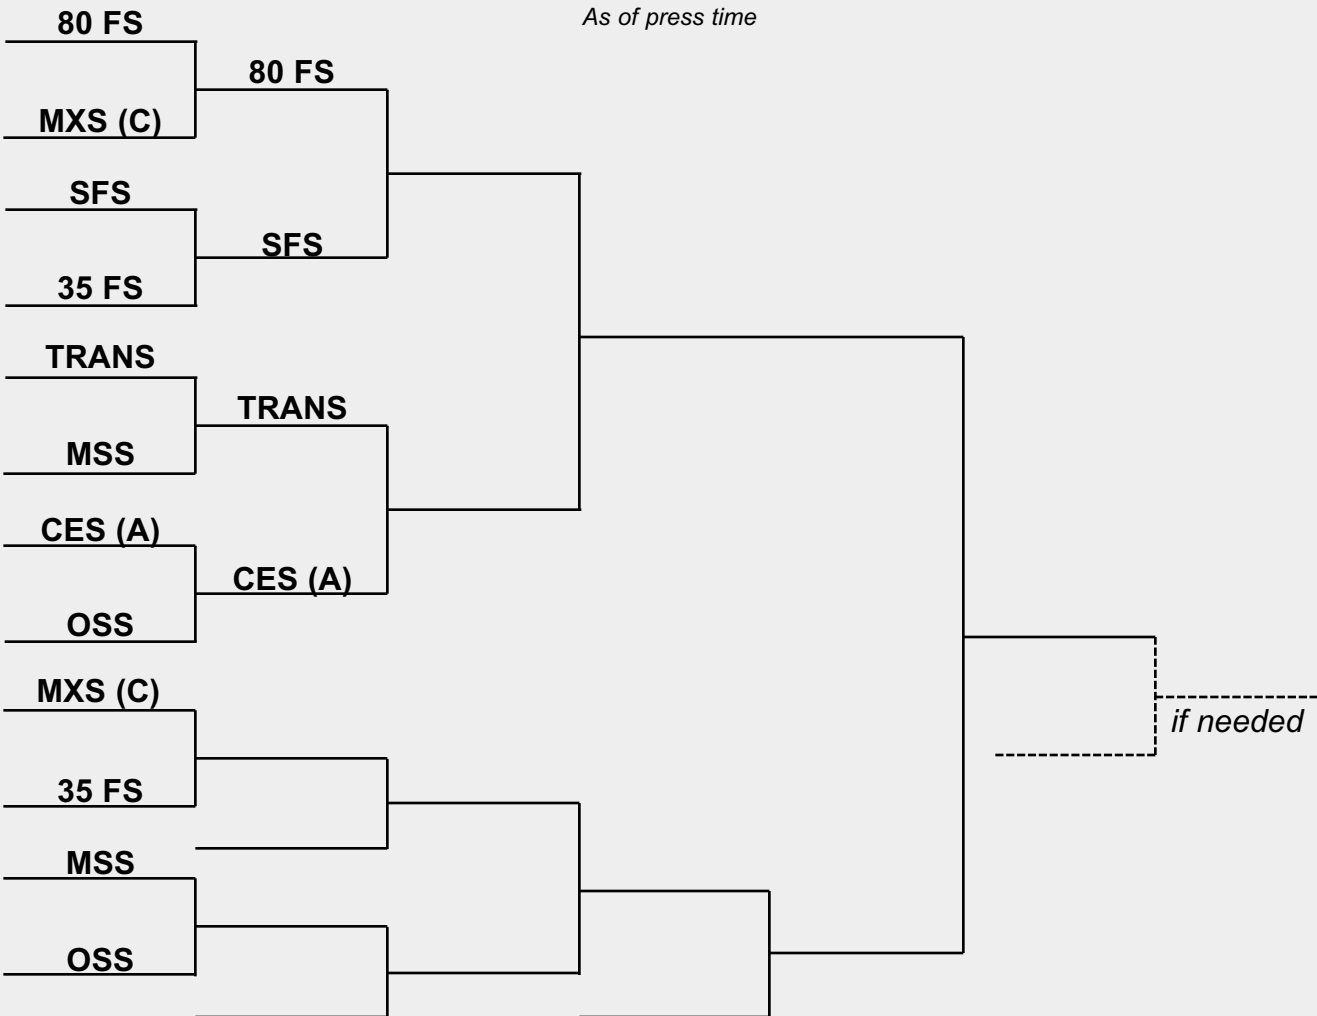

The flock of feisty TRANS fans made the second half blow out interesting enough to keep the Mosquito from simply calling it an early night. Kunsan heckling is infamous throughout the softball season, but better be careful, the referees are throwing flags like confetti for language from the players.

Security Forces is another team that can boast loyal fanfare. Their perfect [4-0] record, matched only by Ammo for flawless stats, indicates that the games these guys played have been definite pleasers for anyone in the crowd wearing a blue beret. Monday’s 27-12 victory over MXS gave them even more to cheer about as SFS took advantage of dozing defenders with clean plays, surprise interceptions and speedy runs to the goal line. Should they keep it up, the cops will certainly remain one of the league’s strongest teams and a dangerous play-off opponent. The Mosquito’s advice: better keep doing those push-ups at the end of your games, fellas, because play-off time is still a few weeks away.

Until then, the Mosquito is keeping his eye on 35th FS, 80th FS and SUPS among those looking to overthrow the reigns of Ammo and SFS. The 35th FS in particular shows a considerable amount of experience with fast receivers to compliment long passes and tricky rushing to pull off quick reversals. In Monday’s game against SVS, they even managed to be quick enough to pull a little down field block-

Intramural Golf Playoffs Tournament

As of press time

Fantasy softball standings

Current as of Oct. 3

Grip -n- Rip	6 - 0
Fockers	6 - 0
Hard Guns	5 - 1
Destroyers	3 - 3
Diamond Dawgs	2 - 4
ROK Crushers	2 - 4
BBD's	0 - 6
Rangers	0 - 6

Fantasy softball weekend schedule

Sunday
noon	ROK Crushers	vs	Fockers
2 p.m.	Grip -n- Rip	vs	Diamond Dawgs
4 p.m.	BBD's	vs	Destroyers
6 p.m.	Rangers	vs	Hard Guns
Monday (Columbus Day)
1 p.m.	Fockers	vs	Destroyers*
2 p.m.	BBD'S	vs	Rangers
4 p.m.	Grip -n- Rip	vs	Hard Guns
6 p.m.	ROK Crushers	vs	Diamond Dawgs
* One game only

October Events

Saturday
8 a.m. Around Kunsan bike race
9:30 a.m. 5K Columbus Run
Sunday
10 a.m. Kunsan citizens 5K run
Monday
10 a.m. 2001 Volksport 10 K run/walk
Oct. 13
9 a.m. bench press competition*
*Competitors should report one hour before competition. We also need volunteers for spotters. Call Staff Sgt. Herman Jackson at 782-4026 for details. No entry fee. Race begins at the parking lot across from the mural when you get off the bus in Kunsan City. Call 1st Lt. Ben Frankenfield at 782-4705 for details. Begins at the Falcon Community Center. Call Staff Sgt. Thomas Luft at 782-4619 for details.

ing past the referees, but that’s a different story. The final 25-6 score, which ended the game early with the mercy rule, shows that 35th FS has more going for them than simply lucky plays. On that note, the Mosquito would like to issue a challenge to Kunsan’s football fans to root for their lucky teams. Action in the bleachers is sometimes just as amusing as what is happening on the field; take Buffalo Bills’ fans for example. At 0-3, why do you think their fans keep coming back right now except to drink beer and eat nachos? Oh, and don’t forget your repellant — the Mosquito will certainly be there looking for fresh meat for next week’s sports page.

Intramural flag football (upcoming games)

American League

today
8 p.m. SUPPLY	vs.	SFS
9 p.m. 35 FS	vs.	MXS
Wednesday
6 p.m. SUPPLY	vs.	SFS
7 p.m. SVS	vs.	MXS

National League

Tuesday
6 p.m. AMMO	vs.	TRANS
7 p.m. CES	vs.	COMM
8 p.m. OSS	vs.	CPTF
Thursday
6 p.m. OSS	vs.	TRANS
7 p.m. CPTF	vs.	COMM
8 p.m. CES	vs.	AMMO
Oct. 16
6 p.m. COMM	vs.	TRANS
7 p.m. OSS	vs.	AMMO
8 p.m. CES	vs.	CPTF
Oct. 18
6 p.m. AMMO	vs.	COMM
7 p.m. CES	vs.	OSS
8 p.m. CPTF	vs.	TRANS